

Music and Seminar – Protective Planning

We've arrived at the last week of this session of Supervising Safety. Just stop for a minute and consider all you've learned so far.

Your efforts are really paying off!

This last week, we will gather at seminar. We'll dedicate some more time to Protective Planning and consider how you can move forward improving practice in your agency.

Be sure to bring all the work you have completed since the last seminar. In particular, bring the notes from your conversation with your Learning Buddy and your applications with agency cases.

This seminar is our last gathering to consider Present Danger Threats and Protective Planning. Here's what we'll be doing. We'll consider Protective Planning in more depth. You'll also have an opportunity to reflect back on what you've learned and look forward to how you can apply it to improve the quality of CPS practice in your agency.

Participating in Supervising Safety has required considerable dedication of your time and energy. The ongoing daily demands of supervising child welfare work are often challenging. Undoubtedly, there were times this additional responsibility was difficult.

Our last seminar is an opportunity to recognize you for that effort.

It's a contribution to your own personal professional growth, the support of your workers, and the quality of practice in your agency.
