

The Shared Learning Experience

A shared learning experience works best when everyone arrives ready to be fully present, engaged, and open to the moment. With no pre-work or post-work required, the expectation is simply that participants bring their perspectives, listen actively, and contribute to a space where we learn from one another.

Safety Collaboration: Building Confidence in In-Home Planning

Collaborative Goals:

Build confidence in in-home planning

Strengthen critical decision-making skills

Provide guided learning experiences supported by WCWPDS trainers and DCF staff

Leverage peer experiences to enhance learning and professional confidence

Create a space for open discussion about current practices and real-world experiences

Reinforce best practices in safety planning through collective learning and engagement

Each topic will have two sessions. Supervisor sessions will build confidence and skill in supporting staff with in-home planning. CWP's will collaborate and share experiences on engaging families in in-home planning. Both sessions will focus on learning together, open conversation, and practical tips people can use in their everyday practice.

No registration required.

Free continuing education hours.
